TEMPTATION
Temporary Gain!

Whose Fault Is It?

We all face temptations. The real problem is that we are always looking for someone to blame. With Adam and Eve, the temptation came from the serpent, from Satan. After the fall, Adam says to God, "It was the woman whom you gave to me." He blames Eve and ultimately God for giving her to him. Eve says, "It was that serpent."

In our culture, we often follow suit. It really was due to my genes, and after all God you gave those to me. It was parents, my upbringing. It was really because of my mate, my husband or my wife. It was my boss or the terrible job I have.

God may put us to the test, but, when we sin, there is no one or nothing to blame but ourselves.

Join us Sunday evening, February 27, as we continue our study in James.
